

Create software without programming

No real code needed. Based on JSON preferences.

Create anything, on any platform

Build entirely new systems, or modify existing software with new building blocks.

Integration is easy

With Zero Code, you can change virtually any existing system.

Focused on software that are built on databases and have web user interfaces

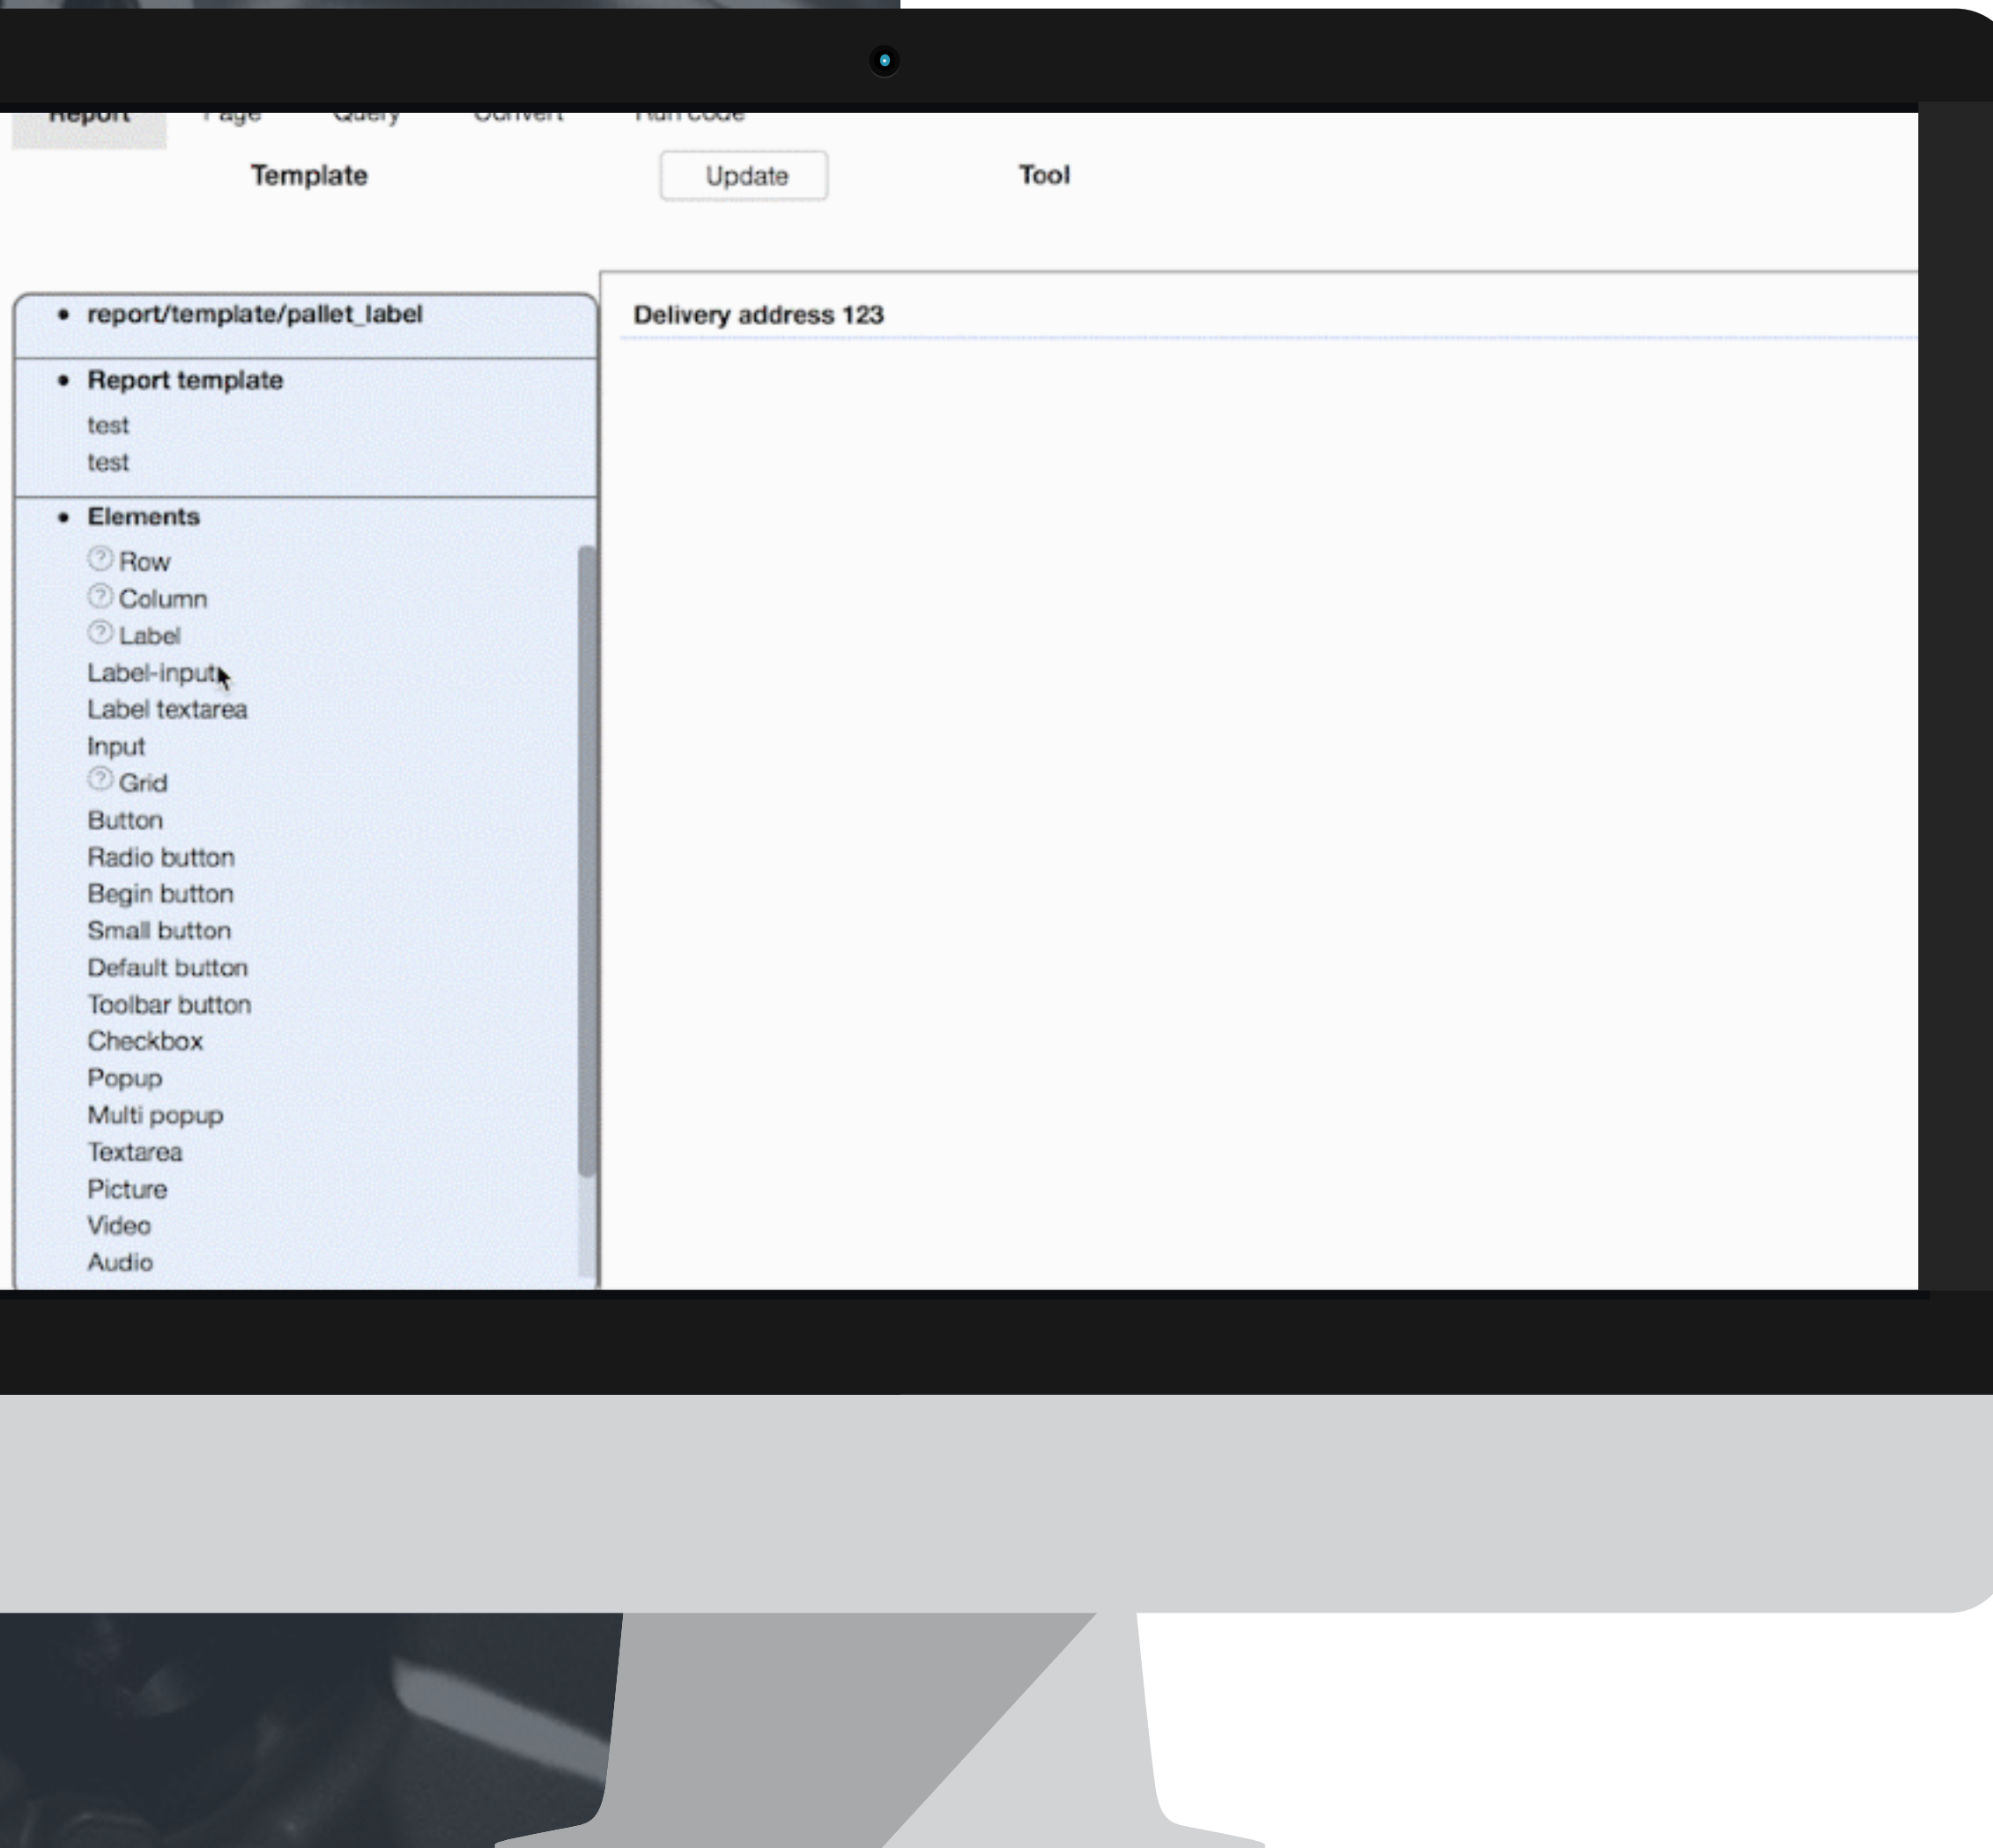

ERP systems and other business software as a starting point.

CURRENT SITUATION

4

First partners secured

Multiple future partners have already expressed interest on working on new products using Zero Code.

Already completely functional, only lacks visual tools

Over 5 years of coding already done.

We have built an entire ERP system using our tool

Tool built on 30 years of past ERP experience.

Various ERP system assets to offer to partners and users

We have numerous existing ERP system modules like billing or timecard modules for our customers to start building on and selling.